Japanese Intervention in Siberia

LONDON, Mar. 12.—According to reports from Tokio, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Tien Tsin dated Monday, an important dispatch from London regarding Siberia caused an immediate meeting of the foreign advisory council.

The subject of Japan's intervention in Siberia is to be raised in the house of commons on Thursday by H. B. Lee-Smith, member for Northampton, when Arthur J. Balfour is expected to reply.

VANCOUVER, Mar. 12.—A special cable from Tokio to the Vancouver Province today says:

"Foreign Minister Motono was this morning waited upon by the British and French ambassadors at the foreign office, when they formally asked for the intervention of Japan in Siberia in order to block any German plans in the Far East. At the same time American Ambassador Morris made the announcement that America will not object to the sending of Japanese troops to Siberia.

"Ambassador Ishii, recently appointed to Washington, will leave for the United States some time in April."

LONDON, Mar. 12.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company, from Tien Tsin, says it was reported unofficially from Tokio that negotiations were going on between the Japanese and Siberian government and that the Japanese government considered the situation acute.

In the Legislature

FOLLOWS THE

REVENUE BILL

Govt. Criticized Because Direct Tax Attached to Patriotic Assessment

FACTS BEFORE PUBLIC

No Attempt to Deceive People as to Plans for Possible Surplus

A long debate marked the entry of the Supplementary Revenue Bill into committee of the whole house at the sitting of the Legislature on Tuesday afternoon and, although it looked as if the measure would be passed without any serious opposition, the committee being divided, the expected opposition was not far off. The bill, which is being considered on the day of the measure, was introduced by the Minister of Finance, Mr. J. H. Brown, and the debate was a long one, the critics from both the regular opposition benches and the government benches being that, while it would be a good thing to have a direct tax for patriotic purposes, it was more or less a tax on the people, and it was not the purpose of the bill to raise the revenue, but to provide for the possible surplus.

The Supplementary Revenue Bill, it should be stated, is introduced for the purpose of raising the revenue of the province with the $500,000, the government desired to contribute, and is a contributing to the Patriotic Fund.

On the question of the government it was pointed out that instead of the people being deceived as to the object of the legislation, they were being told that the bill was being introduced for the purpose of raising the revenue, and that the bill was being introduced for the purpose of raising the revenue, and that the bill was being introduced for the purpose of raising the revenue.

Coblentz, Capital of Rhine Province Hit By Fleet of Aviators

LONDON, March 12.—British aviators have dropped a ton of bombs on the town of Coblentz, capital of the Rhine Province of Prussia, according to an official communication issued tonight.

Coblentz, which is situated on one of the finest sections of the Rhine, has a population of nearly 50,000. It is a strongly fortified town, and on the opposite bank of the Rhine, on a lofty rocky eminence, is the fortress which has been considered almost impregnable.

The town does a large trade by water and rail, its manufactures include pianos, paper goods and machinery. There also is some shipbuilding done there.

Paris, March 12.—The Germans lost four airplanes in last night's attack on Paris. Nine squadrons took part in the raid. This was the second aerial attack on Paris of the last few days, thirteen persons having been killed and 50 wounded in a last Friday night.

LONDON, March 12.—One of the German raiders over Paris last night was brought down in flames, and the crew was taken prisoner, a Havas dispatch from Paris states.

The French official statement on the raid says that warning was given at 9:10 o'clock, and "all clear" was sounded at midnight. About 60 airplanes crossed the French lines. Thanks to the artillery barrage, which was maintained throughout the entire raid with great intensity, a certain number of machines were unable to reach their objectives.

The raiding Gotha brought down in flames fell on a spot three miles from Chateau Thierry. A German captain who was on board and was taken prisoner with the crew, belongs to the third squadron of the German seventh army.

Paris, March 12.—The bomb victims 29 were killed and 50 injured in Paris and five killed and 29 injured in the suburbs.

Typhus Epidemic Spreads in Petrograd—Reds Try to Appease China

PETROGRAD, March 12.—In consequence of the departure of the commission to Moscow, a special Petrograd revolutionary commission of seven has been formed with Leon Trotsky as president. Another commission of ten members, representing the military authorities, will be formed with M. Zinovief, a former minister, as president. The neutral powers have decided to remain in Petrograd. The German advance on the Chinese front has determined resistance along the Sino-Russian frontier. The epidemic in Petrograd is increasing. The authorities against the Bolsheviks pronounced by Dr. Tikhon, patriarch of All Russia, was read in all the churches Sunday.

News columns write that Austria is isolating all prisoners of war and is attempting to prevent propaganda.

China, Answers Red

LONDON, March 12.—A Reuters dispatch from its correspondent at Shanghai dated last Saturday says that the Chinese authorities at Shanghai have decided to show unfriendly attitude towards the Bolsheviks. The Chinese authorities were only attacked by the Bolsheviks General Bennett. The dispatch adds that the Chinese authorities are in relations with Russia not having been in contact with the Chinese were unable to consider the general a rebel.

Demand 2-Year Wheat Price

Farm Board of Canada Wants Govt. to Move

Free Implements from U.S. An Essential, Say Council of Agriculture—Strongly Opposed to Advance in Freight Rates—Want Guarantee Necessary.

REGINA, March 12.—After being in session for the first time in several months, the Council of Agriculture today began its session to discuss the demand for a 2-year wheat price. The first called on the Union government of Canada to at once fix the price for the 1918 wheat crop and also a minimum price for the 1919 wheat crop.

The second called on the government to at once remove the duty from all necessary farm implements.

The third was an emphatic protest at the proposed freight rate increase and an expression of opinion that the only solution to Canada's railway problem at the present is nationalization and government control.

The new officers elected are: H. W. Wood, president U.F.A., president; Rod Mackenzie, Winnipeg, vice-president; and secretary, John P. Wright, of the M.G.A.A. G. H. Chipman, editor of Grain Growers' Guide, and J. A. Maguire, secretary of the S.G. G.A., executive.

Three Resolutions

In full the resolutions are as follows:

"Resolved, that in the interest of greater production and to ensure that the Dominion government fix the price for the 1918 wheat crop and also a minimum price for the 1919 wheat crop.

"Whereas, the call comes to the farmers to increase production, greater production to supply the needs of the world, and to ensure that the Dominion government fix the price for the 1918 wheat crop and also a minimum price for the 1919 wheat crop.

MARKER PLAN BUTTER GRADE IS COMMENDED

System of Alberta's Dairy Cattle
Lauded by St. Paul
Press

Alberta's dairy commissioner is getting fame in other countries, and, unlike the reference so often quoted, he is also honored in his own country. During the winter, Mr. Marker was

"If some day the special car-load on butter comes, the matter of grading will present itself in a new light, because then radical changes in the marketing of butter will probably take place. Until then and as a start towards universal butter grading the system inaugurated by Commissioner Marker, of the province of Alberta, Canada, would appear to be most practical this system, which has been described in the Dairy Record upon several occasions, has been very successful: it calls for a fair-sized sample of each churning, and makes it possible for the agency doing the grading to issue a certificate, and the churning is then sold on this certificate. The objection will at once be raised that such certificate of grade may be all right today but wholly worthless three weeks hence, on a count of the change that may take place in the butter. Mr. Marker has disposed of that objection long ago, and that is why his system is so successful. He doesn't issue certificates to butter likely to change. This he avoids by requiring the creameries availing themselves of his grading service to employ certain pasteurization temperatures which countless experiments have proven a most dependable and effective means of strengthening and effective means of preventing deterioration in the butter. Furthermore, his system includes a very effective guard against creameries that do not employ the prescribed pasteurization temperatures. The proof of the pudding is in the eating thereof, and Mr. Marker's system has proven itself practical and reliable, and the certificates of grade issued under it

"The more we study the Market system, the more we think of it. While it might be possible for a creamery, by oversight or with intent, to upset the reliability of the certificate by substituting samples of good churnings for samples of poor churnings, the keeping of the samples at the grading sta-

"On the other hand, the system has certain great advantages. It does not in any way interfere with or upset established channels of butter marketing. It safeguards the manufacturer as well as the receiver and, of course, also the consumer. It promotes uniformity and efficiency; also cream grading, and it furnishes the grading agency a great deal of material and records for experimental purposes.

"The creamery industry of the Northwest should consider the Markuter system of grading and certifying utter most seriously. We believe we can adopt it to our own great advan-

age. And we term it the Marker rather than the Alberta system, because we believe in giving credit where credit is due, in spite of the strenuous objections which Commissioner Marker, in his modest way,

TENDER TOES OF AMERICAN WOMEN

Tortured with corns because of high heels, but says corns will lift out.

Style decrees that women wear high-heel footwear, which buckles up the toes, producing painful corns when men come out at these points, which is a most dangerous practice.

For little cost there can be obtained from any pharmacy a harmless drug called frezzone. A quarter ounce of this is sufficient to remove the hard corn or callus from one's foot. A few drops applied directly to the corn, and when the corn is brought out without pain.

It is a simple remedy which gives a moment and shrivels up the corn without inflaming or irritating, the surrounding tissue or skin.

It is a good thing, ladies, so please along to your sisters in distress.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing cough, and the breathing become easy, and the mucus soon dropping into the throat.

It is easy to make, tastes pleasant and costs little. Every one who has catarrh should give this treatment a trial. It will probably find it is just what you need.

"PIPING PARSON" GUEST OF HONOR NEW YORK CLUB

Scottish Preacher Thrills Gotham Canadians With Stories From the Trenches

SAYS NO BIGOTRY IN MARTIAL RELIGION

"You Must Change Your Views
When These Boys Come Home"

New York, Mar. 11.—Rev. Laughlin McLean Watt, M. A., F. R. S. E., who was chaplain for the Gordon Highlanders and is known in the British army as the "piping parson" was the guest of honor and chief speaker at the annual smoker of the Canadian Club of New York at the hotel Billmore last night.

The Scottish preacher thrilled the Canadians with many stories from the trenches, both humorous and pathetic.

He had been asked, he said, how long the war would last. Let me tell you, he said, "that when I first crossed to France on Christmas Eve, 1914, and got with the boys I found them all floating among themselves as only British soldiers can, because they were being kept back from the front so long; they feared they would not get with the front line in time to enter Berlin on New Year's day. Later, we changed our plans and decided to enter Berlin on May 1. Well, we have changed our minds many times since. But we have not changed our hearts."

Major Watt spoke of the tolerance among the various religious representations at the front. "There is no bigotry in martial religion," he said with a Jewish prayer. "We are together, talking, laughing and working together. My Jewishity did not hurt my Presbyterianism, nor did my Presbyterianism hurt my Jewishity. We buried all side by side and just as they are, and you people who are always with us, thinking of religion with a feeling that you must change your mind and religion when these boys come home."

AMERICAN TANKS ARE SUCCESSFUL IN TRIAL TESTS

Many Are Already Completed and Have Been Shipped to France

New York, Mar. 12.—A special from Washington says that American tanks have proved successful under tests conducted by British, French and American army experts and are expected to play an important part in the operations on the western front this year.

The American plan, it was explained today, cost $50,000,000 for construction of these tanks, which will range from 125 to 250 horse-power. Many of the tanks have not only been completed but have been shipped to France.

The American plan is a combination of the French and British systems. That is General Pershing has light armor tanks, well as powerful ones. By having a wide variety he can use them for various purposes.

The tractor tanks will therefore serve for transporting artillery and motor torres over rough roads and may even be used in the fields as well as serving to support the United States infantry in action.

DRAFTEE WON'T OBEY ORDERS AS A SOLDIER

Member of "Needed Truth Brethren"—Ottawa Stated to be Investigating Sect

Toronto, March 12.—"I can only say that I shall continue to disobey orders as a soldier," said P. J. Janssen, a Dutchman, who was tried by district court martial at Exhibition place yesterday afternoon on a charge of disobeying orders given by his superior officer.

The accused belonged to the "Needed Truth Brethren," a sect which is known to the military authorities as the "Brethren of the New Dispensation." Janssen was charged with disobeying orders given by his superior officer to go to the camp kitchen and before going to the kitchen to go to the camp kitchen and before going to the kitchen to go to the camp kitchen.

The court martial was held at the camp kitchen and before going to the kitchen to go to the camp kitchen.

Adventures of Uncle Wiggily

Uncle Wiggily and the Hooting Owl

Copyright, 1918, by the McGuire
Newspaper Syndicate.

Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman, was coming home to his hollow stump bungalow one afternoon, having been out in the woods and fields looking for an adventure, but not finding any when, all of a sudden, he fell sick and blew off his head.

"My! The March winds are very strong," said the bunny, when he chanced after the hat, which bounded and rolled along the woodland path, as though having a race with some last year's leaves.

"Hoot! Hoot! Hoot!" laughed a voice from the tree over Uncle Wiggily's head.

The funny uncle, after a bump, skip and a jump, caught his hat just as it was going to turn a back somersault, and, crowding it tightly over his ears, he wouldn't blow off again, he looked up.

Are you laughing at me, because

You, Indeed, I am sorry for you. Hoot! Hoot! Hoot!"

"Well, it sounded just as if you were laughing at me, and I don't like it," said Uncle Wiggily. "I don't want to have to chase after you."

"I can easily guess that," spoke the hooting owl. "But believe me, I didn't even know it. You see, my eyes are made for looking in the dark, and in the daytime I can hardly see at all—enough to feel myself—which is why I always have such late meals—after dark, I wasn't laughing at you."

"Then I'm sorry I thought you were," said Uncle Wiggily. "I beg your pardon."

"Don't mention it, pray," said the hooting owl.

"Can't I do anything for you?" went on the bunny. "Would you like me to look for something for you to eat, since you can't see in the day time?"

"Oh, thank you, yes," answered the big, snow-white owl, "but a little later. Hoot! Hoot! Hoot!"

"What makes you say that so much?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "It does sound just as if you were laughing."

"Well, it's only a way I have of meaning," said the owl. "The sun tickles my eyes, even though I keep them closed in the daytime, and then I have to sneeze. Hoot! Hoot! Hoot!"

"Was as long as you weren't laughing at me, all right," said Uncle Wiggily, as he went inside his hollow stump bungalow.

"Who were you talking to outside?" asked Nurse Jane. "Pussy Wuzzy, his mistress lady housekeeper."

"The noise you heard was the hooting owl," thought he was laughing. "I thought he was sneezing, but he blew off, and I'm hungry. It is supper nearly ready."

"I thought maybe you'd like to go to the moving pictures," said the bunny. "If we start early we'll get a good seat."

So after supper the bunny rabbit and Nurse Jane went to the movies and watched the pictures, which showed how real people put rings in their ears and chains around their necks, and then jump up and down to hear them jingle.

"Did you like it?" asked Uncle Wiggily, as he and Nurse Jane came out of the picture palace.

"Yes," answered the mistress lady, "but how dark it is!"

"I don't like it," said Nurse Jane. "I don't like the picture."

"Oh, I guess I can find it all right," said Uncle Wiggily, as he and Nurse Jane went to the movies.

"Well, we have been a whole lot longer in coming home from the picture palace."

Children Like It

It is not as easy as it looks. Children like it because it is so easy to take one of these little tablets and swallow it. And mothers like it because it is so easy to give it to their children. It is the best remedy for children's coughs, colds, and all other ailments of the throat and lungs.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

It is the best remedy for children's coughs, colds, and all other ailments of the throat and lungs. It is so easy to take and so easy to give that it is the best remedy for children's ailments.
